

Headline News Box Hosting Agreement

Agreement between NTP Media and _____, the "hosting website."

NTP Media (hereafter referred to as "NTP"), a division of Grand View Media Group, grants to the hosting website the limited right to use and display the registered trademark Professional Carwashing & Detailing® within the "headline news box" that NTP is providing.

The hosting website agrees not to use the Professional Carwashing & Detailing® trademark in any other electronic or print media location without obtaining prior permission in writing from NTP. The hosting website, and its owners and management, agree to abide by this limitation on the use of the Professional Carwashing & Detailing® trademark.

The hosting website agrees that NTP will have exclusive control over the content and headlines in the "headline news box," and the owners and management of the hosting website agree not to make any changes to the content or the appearance of the "headline news box" provided by NTP.

If the managers and owners of the hosting website faithfully adhere to the provisions of this agreement, NTP will assume all liabilities and hold the hosting website harmless for any damage claims specifically related to information contained in the "headline news box" provided by NTP.

If the managers and owners of the hosting website make any changes to the "headline news box" or violate the provisions of this agreement in any way, NTP's agreement to assume all liabilities and hold the hosting website harmless for any damage claims regarding the information contained in the "headline news box" provided by NTP is automatically withdrawn and voided.

The hosting website can remove the "headline news box" from its website at any time without giving prior notice to NTP. If the "headline news box" is removed from its website for more than five consecutive business days, however, the hosting website agrees to notify NTP of such removal. The hosting website also agrees to notify NTP of "headline news box" reinstatement if it is reactivated after such a removal.

The hosting website acknowledges and understands that NTP cannot provide customized versions of daily headlines for websites hosting the "headline news box."

The hosting website also acknowledges, understands and accepts the inherent risks associated with Professional Carwashing & Detailing e-News™ stories drawn from company, government and association news releases, daily and weekly newspapers, various websites, news services, court records, government decisions and records, financial reports on file at government agencies, public statements by government and corporate officials and other publicly available sources. As such, some headlines fed to the Professional Carwashing & Detailing e-News™ "headline news box" may not be deemed appropriate for the hosting website because the headlines may report on news:

- about competitors of the hosting website, and/or
- about topics the hosting website's management does not consider beneficial to the mission of its website, and/or
- that does not necessarily reflect positively on the hosting website's sponsors.
